SENIOR CLASS HISTORY

The graduating class of 1969 entered Delphos Jefferson High School for the first time as eighth graders in September, 1964, possessing a unique spirit which we sustained throughout the next five years.

As freshmen we became a structural pillar in the school foundation. We entered into the successes and failures of DHS with refreshing enthusiasm and boundless energy. College-bound students slaved over Latin, and Biology reigned as the girls' favorite subject, with the dissecting sections thrilling all of them. The freshman was easy to spot—he was always the one frantically kicking a stubborn locker, wandering in the hall in search of a classroom, picking himself or his books from the floor, or the one at the tail end of the lunch and drinking-fountain lines. Many of the girls were inducted into Y-Teens, and good-naturedly endured GAA initiation at the hands and mercy of the upper classmen. In sports the boys began to hold their own, providing new prospect and fresh abilities.

During the sophomore year, the class gained a little more security, along with a heavier schedule. Along with the homework which began piling upon us, we became increasingly busy in band, choir, and girls glee. Boys lettering in sports were inducted into D-Club. As the end of the year rolled around, we chose our class rings, and began dreaming about another summer vacation.

As juniors the class of 1969 began to display qualities of leadership and ingenuity as we became more actively involved in clubs, music, and sports. We began our career as thespians by presenting a three act comedy, "It Happens Every Summer." We also combined our talents and imagination in designing and creating the Junior-Senior prom with the theme of "Summer Place."

On September 3, 1968, the class of 1969 returned to Jefferson High School for our last year. We were finally Seniors; we had actually made it. Yet the exhilaration of being "top brass" was sobered somewhat by the realization that for many this was the last year we would share; for all graduating seniors, it would be the last year before we struck out on our own—whether we headed for college, the service, or immediate work. As seniors, the class of 69 became leaders in student and club government. It inspired the football, baseball, and basketball teams during the seasons and made its presence known in all aspects of DHS. The class combined some of its skills and abilities with great success in presenting our Senior Class Play, a three act comedy, "Her Adorable Imp." Not only was the class outstanding in scholarship, leadership, and character but also in service. As a project the class donated $180 to Miss Christine Hongiford to help for a kidney transplant. Toward the end of the year as graduation approached, we were caught up in a whirl of dinners, parties, decisions, and finals.

On June 2, 1969, we stood poised on the threshold of our lives as adults in an adult world. For the class of 1969, the story had just begun, but already it was an individual one.

FOOTBALL

Due to the lack of size and extent of injuries, our 1968 football season was not a complete success. Our record was not the best in Jefferson's history, but far from the worst. There were many bright spots and our team spirit was always up to high standards as was our coaching staff.

BASKETBALL

If "to rise after falling is our glory" is the motto of a great team, then the 1968-69 Wildcat cagers were winners in every respect. This team had the desire and the determination to win, but the lack of consistency in each facet of the game proved to be the team's biggest setback.

With Coach Burrey at his first year as head coach, his methods and ideas were new, but by the end of the year the team began to adjust and looked good as it won five out of its last seven games. This showed the determination of the boys as they came back and bettered their performances of the first half of the season.

BASEBALL

It was not a great year for the Wildcats, but a huge amount of valuable experience was gained by the members of the team. Four of the season games were lost by only one run. With a few breaks these games could have been won. The record is not outstanding, but it does not show the determination and enjoyment that the team received in each game.

“69” HOMECOMING

On October 12, 1968, the Delphos Jefferson Homecoming took on a new look. Through the efforts of the Student Council there was an attendant from each of the Senior High Classes. They were; Freshman Laura Wolery escorted by Jack Franks, Sophomore Marcia Bruns escorted by Harold Bilimek, Junior Quincy Atterberry escorted by Hal Krotzer, and Senior Monica Endres escorted by Dale Arnold. The climax of the evening came at the dance when Queen Cheri Turner was crowned by her escort Tom Truesdale.

JUNIOR CLASS PLAY

On the evenings of March twenty-seventh and twenty-eighth, the Junior Class presented its class play, "The Robin Hood Caper", written by Fred Carmichael. Miss Tate, director of the play, was assisted by student directors, Rita McKinley and Sue Daulbaugh.

The play revolves around four old people who meet semi-annually to report on their good works in their "Charities Anonymous Club". This year it is held at the home of Flora Langley's nephew, a small-town journalist in danger of losing his newspaper to the grafting mayor. It turns out that Flora and her three old friends are actually retired crooks who use their old "modus operandi" for charitable purposes.

SENIOR CLASS PLAY

A nut, a destructive nut! That's Jeanie Pfeiffer. Jeanie's accused of breaking things, destroying things, and seeing things. Despite her denials, no one believes her, except her mother who still remains a bit pessimistic. Jeanie's father refuses to believe all her "nonsense" and calls a woman psychologist to come and analyze her. Her tom-boy little sister, "Danny", easily irritates Jeanie by mocking her. Jeanie's two girlfriends, Sheila and Midge, try to comfort her but Sheila wavers between being sympathetic and suspicious, while Midge is unsure and has a tendency to say the wrong thing at the wrong time. Tommy Graves, Jeanie's boyfriend, is torn between a fear of Jeanie's crazy behavior and a desire to help her. As matters are compounded by a crabby neighbor and the police, the story ended in a manner that surprised everyone.

The punch stand, a great place for conversation.

"SHANGRI-LA"

"Shangri-La" was the theme of the annual Y-Teen Dance held on November 16, 1968. As the young ladies and their escorts walked through the doors of the music room, they entered an oriental paradise. On the walls were silhouettes of exotic dancers and gold temple masks. In one corner of the room was a formal oriental garden centered around a life size Buddha. Music was provided by a popular group called "The Blueberry Circle".

Entertainment was provided by three Senior boys. They, showed off their talents by singing and imitating several of the more famous T.V. comedians.

All in all, it proved to be a fun-filled evening for all present.

Student Council President Tom Brenneman crowns Carnival Queen Lynda Sams as King Doug Miller looks on.

CARNIVAL DANCE

Lynda Sams and Doug Miller, Freshmen candidates, were crowned King and Queen and reigned over the Carnival Dance which took place on February 8, 1969. The other candidates were Sophomores, Donna LaRue; Juniors, Sheba Arnold and Tim Ramsey; and Seniors, Marcia Fronk and Dave Hoffman. The candidates were selected by popular votes from their class. Votes were collected a penny per vote for the candidates of their choice, and the money was given to the P.T.A. for their yearly project.

PROM

"Some Enchanted Evening", theme of the Junior-Senior Prom of nineteen hundred and sixty-nine, was centered around a polynesian night. The ceiling flowed in mid-night and ice-blue streamers. Palm trees, tikis, birds in garland cages, and tropical fish accompanied the tables decorated with "exotic" flowers, by making the night truly enchanted.

SENIOR DAY

Miss Linda Ness receives Valedictorian honors from Mr. Blythe.

Mr. Whitaker presents Huffman award to Miss Debra Mullenhour.

Mr. Blythe awards Tom Truesdale Salutatorian honors.

Class of "69" receive final directions from Mr. Arnette.

STUDENT HELPERS

The student office help volunteer part of their free time to help in the office of their school. They type the absentee list and then distribute them to all the teachers in the morning and afternoon. They also do other small jobs and run errands when needed.

The stage crew members help the janitors in all ways possible. They prepare the stage for fall assemblies, programs and help with the lighting for class plays and concerts.

The Delphos Jefferson Marching Band entertained football lovers this year with various half-time shows. Following a hardworking marching season, the band set to work on their annual Christmas Concert. The band then set upon the task of hosting the District Contest in March. This undertaking proved to be a mixture of fun and hard work. The band also received an excellent rating at the District Contest. The Senior Concert Band completed the year with a successful Spring Concert.

All the band members wish to thank both Mr. Sills for his guidance and the Band Boosters for their support.

VOCAL MUSIC

The vocal music department was busy this past year. The first performance of the year for the mixed chorus was the combined Thanksgiving Services which was held in the auditorium. The Girls Glee made their appearance in their annual Christmas Concert. After vacation, the groups began work on their contest numbers. Both groups received Superior ratings at District Contest and continued on to State Competition where the Mixed Choir received an excellent rating and the Girl's Glee received a Superior rating. Both groups were under the direction of Mrs. Ann Y. Oetzel.

STUDENT COUNCIL

dent, Tom Truesdale, Vice-President, Tim Freund, Treasurer.

In the second year of operation the student council contributed much to Jefferson High School. Under the direction of Mr. Mark Downey the Council set a record by collecting five-hundred and eighty-three dollors for the P.T.A. King and Queen Contest.

The Council also changed their constitution to make it more feasible in the future.

The Student Council also took over some school projects and elections. For example the Council conducted the balloting for Homecoming and Cheerleaders.

The National Honor Society is composed of students who are chosen by the faculty members. They must show the best possible qualities in scholarship, character, service, and leadership.

This organization is an inactive one, but convenes to order once a month to discuss its business.

It is indeed an honor to be admitted to the National Honor Society, and is one of the highest honors obtainable at Jefferson High School.

SCHOLARSHIP TEAM

On May third, twenty-one Jefferson students traveled to Ohio Northern University to compete in the State Scholarship Tests. Each student represented the subject in which he ranked in a high percentile in the Preliminary Test which was taken early in the year.

SOCIETY OF BOOKS

The Society of Books, under the direction of Mrs. Catherine Weiging, assisted by nine student librarians, is organized to aid students and teachers who wish to use the library. Since the library has been remodeled this school year, it now consists of 5,226 books, (481 added this year), sixty-nine magazines, and one daily newspaper.

The student librarians help students in finding reference material, college and career bulletins, signing out books, and help keep the library in order.

DELPHI

Among the many enterprises which Jefferson seniors undertake is the publication of the Delphi. Beyond the constant rush for deadlines, schedules, and layouts, beats the true essence of Jefferson High School tradition manifested by the Delphi's staff of editors, copy writers, business manager, typists, advisor, and many others. No other body of workers at Jefferson strive to retain the memories of people, events, and customs which are so vital to the schools story.

The entire staff at this time would like to express its sincere thanks to Mr. Walter Arnette our able-bodied advisor.

RE-ECHO

The Re-Echo staff, which Consisted of reporters from all the classes and the Junior-High, struggled to meet deadlines and managed to publish a bi-weekly edition in the Delphos Herald along with three mimeographed issues which were distributed within the school. Miss Ellen Garrison was the advisor and Martha Miller the editor. Cheri Turner and Elaine Bayman were assistant editors.

G.A.A.

The Girl's Athletic Association, under the supervision of Mrs. Gerker, strives for sportsmanship, companionship, and leadership among its members.

The first activity of the year was the initiation of the Freshmen. Next came the planning and decorating for Homecoming Festivities.

To earn points for their G.A.A. letter, the girls sold popcorn at basketball games and took part in intramural games of basketball and volleyball. Also for the second consecutive year, those who were interested could bowl one night to earn points.

In the early part of May, the G.A.A. joins those in Y-Teens for a huge picnic at Fort Amanda.

Y-TEENS

Opening the year with the annual induction service, the Y-Teen welcomed several new members and Miss Leoris, our new advisor. We all enjoyed the meetings and projects we engaged in. Our winter formal with music by the Blueberry Circus, brought much success. The Oriental colors and designs made our theme, "Shangri-La", seem very real. In March, at the Mother-Daughter Tea, Mrs. Catherine Wiegung showed her slides of Africa. Ending the year with a picnic at Fort Amanda on May fourteenth, all the Y-Teen members had a profitable and very enjoyable year.

D-CLUB

The Varsity D-Club, under the direction of Mr. Koch, is an organization of those boys earning a varsity letter in one of the three major sports at Jefferson. The high school spirit this year was in part sparked by the high spirit of the D-Club.

The D-Club buys carnations for the mothers on Parents' Nights during the football season. It also sponsors a trip to Columbus to see an Ohio State football game, buys game film, and holds a "blow-out" at the end of the year for all boys participating in sports.

The D-Club sponsors these programs by selling ads, selling programs for all athletic events, and has charge of the concession stand at all home basketball games.

F.F.A.

Agriculture is the largest industry in the United States! The F.F.A. helps to build leaders in this most important industry.

The F.F.A., the largest school organization in the world, was founded in 1928 as an organization for young men taking Vocational Agriculture. Since the beginning, F.F.A. has grown from the state of Maine to Hawaii and from Washington to Puerto Rico.

SCIENCE CLUB

Though the Delphos Jefferson Science Club was small this year, it still promoted a very successful science fair. The contestants included the entire high school and was not limited only to members. Ribbons were awarded to the best projects in all fields. Receiving the award for the best project were Seniors, Claude Hoover and Bill Clinger.
